15 MEN "WALKED OUT" ON HARRISON

SETTERS WANTED A RAISE IN PAY

TOLD TO 'GIVE UP HOOKS'

Some Threatened To Throw Bricks But No Violence Was Done—Were Getting $2.50 a Day

Fifteen men "walked out" at the Harry Harrison ice house northeast of the Burlington depot shortly after beginning work this morning. They left work because they wanted "more money," they said.

For several days Mr. Harrison has been working in the neighborhood of forty men at his lake getting up the ice. This morning they all went to work as usual and things went well for a time. Then someone called Mr. Harrison into the ice house and told him that the setters—men who work at placing the ice in the building—must have more money, else they would not work.

"All right," said Mr. Harrison, "if you do not want to work for what I am paying you, give me your ice hooks and get out, I'll pay you your money." About fifteen of the men filed past and handed Mr. Harrison their hooks. A few of the men who were at work in the building did not come out but instead remained on the job.

The men who left work hung about for a while and it was said that they threatened to throw bricks at some of those who were working but at last went away without attempting violence. Mr. Harrison said that he believed that the men thought that since the weather was so pretty today that he would be afraid that the ice would melt and would therefore pay them a better wage rather than to allow them to quit. Mr. Harrison says, however, that they were fooled. He does not intend to raise the wages. He is paying the setters $2.50 a day and the men who are working on the lake $2 a day. He says that so far the warm weather has not affected the ice and that he can continue his harvest if it does not grow worse than it now is.

For a time this morning the work was checked by the men's stopping work, but in a short time Mr. Harrison had some of the men on the lake shifted to the inside work and things went on their usual course.

Mr. Harrison said that the men knew when they went to work what they were to get and that if they did not want to work for this money, it was all right for them to quit.

THINKS FRATERNAL ORDERS SHOULD ATTEND CHURCH

The Rev. B. F. Cline Compliments DeMolay For Setting Good Example For Others

The Rev. B. F. Cline, pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist Episcopal Church (South) is of the opinion that it would be well for all of the fraternal orders to set aside certain Sundays to go to church in a body, as the DeMolays of Maryville are doing. In speaking to the DeMolay service yesterday morning Mr. Cline said:

"I am glad to have the DeMolay boys with us and I think the idea is a good one. I believe that it would be well for other organizations to attend church occasionally as the DeMolay boys are doing."

Mr. Cline then complimented the Masonic orders and other fraternal organizations for the splendid work they do, but did not make a sermon especially to the DeMolay boys.

Mr. Cline in his sermon talked considerably of wisdom in its relation to religion.

"Wisdom," he said, "is the vehicle for spiritual life, when it is rightly used. The trouble is not with wisdom but with the way that folks sometimes use it. The knowledge of astronomy was what enabled the wise men to find the savior lying in the manger."

About twenty-five members of the DeMoley attended the services. They were accompanied by I. E. Tuloch and M. A. Peery.

MANY AT DOCTOR KELLEMS MEMORIAL SERVICES

First Floor of the First Christian Church Filled to Capacity Yesterday Morning—Number of Tributes

A crowd which filled to capacity the lower floor of the First Christian Church attended yesterday morning the memorial services for the Rev. Dr. Kellems. The Rev. R. E. Snodgrass spoke at the services and paid a high tribute to Dr. Kellems.

The Rev. Mr. Snodgrass also read telegrams that had been received from various places throughout the United State regarding Dr. Kellems' work and excellent character. One of the telegrams came from Shreveport, Ia., where Dr. Kellems once held a meeting. It was signed by Claude L. Jones. Another telegram was from Eugene, Ore., where Dr. Kellems was for 22 years a teacher in the Eugene Bible College. This telegram was signed by E. C. Sanderson, president of the college. Another of the telegrams was from Dale Humbert of Spokane, Wash., where Dr. Kellems once held a meeting. There was also a telegram from the pastor of the church at Guthrie Center, Ia., where Dr. Kellems died.

It was brought out at the services that Dr. Kellems became ill two weeks before his death, only a short time after he had arrived at Guthrie Center to hold the meeting. At first it was thought that he had the measles and was treated for that disease. A week later it was discovered that he had the black smallpox from which he died.

The family of the pastor of the church at which Dr. Kellems was holding the meeting, along with his wife and child, are still quarantined at the pastor's home at Guthrie Center. It was announced yesterday at the meeting that the body of Dr. Kellems had been shipped to Eugene, Ore., and that a funeral service would be held from the train. Mr. Snodgrass received a letter this morning, however, to the effect that the body had been placed in a vault at Eugene and that the funeral services would not be held until Mrs. Kellems had been released from quarantine so that she could attend the funeral.

One of the features of the meeting was a solo by Mrs. F. P. Robinson, who sang, "When I Get to the End of the Way," one of the songs that Dr. Kellems had sung a number of times while holding his meetings in Maryville.

BAPTIST IN BIG N. W. MO. GATHERING

THREE COUNTIES TO HOLD MEETINGS

MUCH INTEREST EVIDENT

Nodaway, Atchison and Holt Counties to Hold Simultaneous Meetings—To Begin January 11

Beginning January 11 the Baptists of Northwest Missouri will hold a simultaneous enlistment and efficiency campaign in the three counties which comprise the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association of churches. The three counties are Nodaway, Atchison, and Holt.

Enlistment evangelists of the Missouri Baptist Association will conduct the simultaneous services. The Rev. L. H. Mapel of the Springfield District will be in charge of the services in Nodaway County with headquarters at Hopkins. The Rev. George W. Graham of the St. Louis District will conduct the services in Atchison county with headquarters at Tarkio. The Rev. C. A. Westbrook of the Kansas City District will be in charge in Holt County with headquarters at Mound City.

The wonderful opportunity for Missouri Baptists in enlisting the Baptists of Northwest Missouri in a larger and more efficient service, and in training for leadership the officers and workers of the churches, was called to the attention of those members of the executive board of the Missouri Baptist Association, which attended the annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association held in Hopkins September 13 and 14 by the Rev. J. A. Cooper, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Maryville. The Rev. Mr. Cooper also took up the matter of an enlistment campaign with Dr. O. L. Wood, general superintendent of the Missouri Baptist Association.

As soon as it was learned that the Missouri Baptist Association would co-operate in such a campaign, the executive board of the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association, instructed the Rev. R. L. Stratton, pastor of the Mound City and Forrest City Baptist churches and secretary of the board, to find out when the evangelists could hold the meetings.

At the meeting of the executive board of the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association held in the Tarkio Baptist Church a few weeks ago, plans were made and strategic points selected for the holding in each county of simultaneous meetings, upon being informed by the Rev. R. L. Stratton that enlistment evangelists, Mapie, Graham, and Westbrook could be secured for the campaign.

Clyde Melvin of Nodaway County, the Rev. C. F. Kerr of Atchison County, and the Rev. R. L. Stratton of Holt County were appointed to present the matter of headquarters for the county campaign to their respective churches in Hopkins, Tarkio, and Mound City and make such local arrangements as they deemed necessary for the carrying on of the plan.

Immediately following the series of enlistment meetings Evangelists Mapie, Graham, and Westbrook will conduct efficiency conferences in the Baptist Churches of North West Missouri, at which time the officers and workers of each church will meet with the Evangelists to plan the work for their church, to get a larger and clearer vision of their opportunities and obligations, and to get instruction for the carrynig on of the larger plans in co-operation with the Baptist State Aassociation.

Because of the fine record of splendid work that the State Evangelists have made in their own districts, through the inspiration and instruction they have been able to give the members of their churches, in the planning and in the execution of the work, by more intelligent and consecrated effort, it is expected that all of the Baptist Churches of Northwest Missouri will be greatly benefitted. Many pastors and their workers are looking forward to the enlistment and efficiency campaign with much of interest and enthusiasm.

Since this is the first time in the history of Northwest Missouri Baptists, that the interest of the Baptist State Association has been so completely aroused to the great opportunities of Northwest Missouri, and for the first time all of the Baptist State Evangelistic force is to be concentrated upon this district, all pastors and officers of Baptist Churches are urged to attend these meetings. And it is expected that the results will be in proportion to the zeal and concentration of those who have the work in charge.

MUNSEN'S HEARING WILL BE THURSDAY, JANUARY 12

Is Charged With Robbing Farmers Mercantile Store at Skidmore—He Was Arrested Saturday

The hearing of Jesse Munsen, 22 years old, who is held at the Nodaway County jail on a charge of robbing the Farmers Mercantile Store at Skidmore will be held Thursday in the justice court of W. L. Johnson.

In a shed near the house the landlord found a grip belonging to Munsen which contained some articles which were believed to have been stolen. They were identified by the mercantile company by the trade mark as having been taken from the store. Munsen claims that he owns the grip in which the stolen property was found but that he did not know how the goods came to be in it.

C. E. Owens of the mercantile company was in Maryville today. He said that considerable goods had been missed from the store recently. Among other things were two sheep skin lined coats and a vest.

STATE BONUS HELD VALID BY THE SUPREME COURT

Issuance of $15,000,000 in Bands Is Affirmed

Jefferson City, Jan. 9.—The supreme court late Saturday affirmed the validity of the amendment to the constitution providing for the issue of 15 million dollars of state bonds to pay bonuses to the soldiers, sailors and marines, and the legislative act under which the bonds may be sold and the bonuses paid this year.

Every point of attack is answered by the court in favor of the amendment and the bonds. The court holds, however, that the act of the legislature last November providing for a commission to pass upon the claims and the immediate going into effect of the law after its approval by the governor, is not possible, under former rulings of the court.

The act, the court holds, cannot become effective until ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature, which means February 17. Some time ago the governor appointed the two commissioners and now he will have to reappoint them later.

Under the provisions of the bonus legislation, every Missourian who served in the army, navy or marines during a fixed period is to receive $10 for every month of his service, with a maximum of $250.

FARM CLUBS MAKE FOR CO-OPERATION

MRS. C. C. SCHUTTLER SPEAKS AT MEETING

ROAD LAW IS EXPLAINED

R. E. Davies Tells of Work of Marketing Service of St. Joseph Co-operative Organization

"The chief value of clubs is that they teach people to pull together," said Mrs. C. C. Shuttler of the executive board of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation in a speech before the annual meeting of the Nodaway County Farm Bureau in the Empire Theater, Saturday afternoon. "Farmers' organization is successful only in so far as it secures cooperation," she continued.

"Better prices must be obtained for the farm products before farm living can be put on the plain that it should be and it is farm organization that is to make the higher prices. The fundamental problem of the farmer is economic.

"There are two times when the farmers need to be organized. One time is when the conditions are bad to make them good and the other is when the conditions are good to keep them good.

"The Farm Bureau is a family organization. Then work that is to be accomplished by it cannot be done by the men or the women working singly, but must be done by all working together. As goes the rural home so goes the nation and not otherwise. If the nation is to attain its highest ends the rural home must be the best.

"To make the rural homes the best we must have three changes: economic, social and educational. These changes can best be made through cooperation and the organization of the farm people."

Dr. Jesse Miller then explained the provisions of the new road law. The thing that seems to be causing most confusion to the farmers is the matter of a special tax on the land adjoining the road. No such tax will be imposed, according to Dr. Miller. The county will not be out anything. The state provides $6,000 a mile for the building of the road and where that is not sufficient the state will provide more.

R. E. Davies, director of the Missouri Farm Bureau Marketing Service, explain the work of that organization. He said the service was organized with a view of bringing permanent relief to the farmers in the matter of prices paid for commodities, and without the slightest intention of making a profit for itself.

No charge is made the consumer for the handling of orders, but a small commission is charged the shippers.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

COMBINING THE HOUSEWIVES

The suggestion is often made that the housewives should combine against high prices, and refuse to pay them until they get down to a reasonable level. But that runs up against the fact that the great majority of retail dealers sell on a narrow margin.

The essential trouble is that there are other combinations which the housewife can only influence indirectly in that way. Prices are kept high because many combinations of manufacturers unite to control their profits, and in some lines combinations of labor unite to secure high wages. The housewives can effect it somewhat by refusing to patronize certain articles held at high prices. But when it comes to food, people must pay the price.

This idea of refusing to use high cost products has been used with some success in the building industry, and has helped to reduce prices in because houses are expensive and men as a rule do not have to build them. What is wanted is some kind of a movement that will produce commodities at reasonable prices when they are unreasonably controlled by combinations.

CHEWING GUM AND SCHOOL BOOKS

"What can you expect of a country," said Congressman Purnell of Indiana the other day, "that spends twice as much money on chewing gum as school books."

The fathers of the people who are throwing away their money on non-essentials, got a start in life by denying themselves these little luxuries. They scrimped themselves so as to have money for self improvement. So they developed an intelligent generation that produced a wonderful mechanical civilization. That in turn produces numerous devices to divert people from the solid and substantial things of life.

The American people are sound at heart, and in the end surmount difficulties. But they make themselves much trouble by spending their resources for trifles, while neglecting such a fundamental of prosperity and welfare as education.

Some people are bowlegged and others are boldlegged.

Good credit is a fine thing but good cash is better. Both are good things to keep.

The man who can live, as Mark Twain suggested, "that even the undertaker is sorry when he comes to die" must be a lonely individual, for there won't be many like him.

Work before eating is the prescription that successful men must follow and it is a good rule for the man who asks for a free meal. There are a good many fellows out who wouldn't have half so much appetite if they had to work a little before eating.

A year ago Henry Ford was short of ready cash and wanted to borrow a dignified sum. Financiers made demands that he considered unreasonable and wanted to dictate his business policies. He refused to meet the demands and proceeded to raise the money in his own way. This year he has more cash on hand than any man on earth—$121,000,000. Henry may be freakish in some ways but, when it comes to financiering, he can give all of them lessons.

If Brother Ben Hyde succeeds in forcing a reduction of fifteen per cent in the cost of insurance to Missouri property owners, it will be generally agreed that he is the right man in the right place. During recent years the companies have abused public patience almost to the point of insurrection. Every conceivable excuse has been found for increasing rates but removing the cause rarely secured a full removal of the increase. The insurance department, as a rule, has seemed to exist only to approve what the companies demanded and what they did. Commissioner Hyde has made a particularly strong case because he takes the companies own figures from which to show that they have been making unreasonable profits on the premiums charged.

LONG WOULD SUCCEED REED

St. Louisan Again Seeks the Senate Seat.

The only safe way to try out the bootleg alcohol you buy is in your automobile radiator.

A St. Joseph woman is going to write to Will Hays about the postal service. She says her husband left home on a business trip saying he was going to Cincinatti and she got a post card from him postmarked Pittsburg.

We went to the theater the other night and got the shock of our life. Two sweet young things sat behind us and one asked the other, "what is the color of your body." "It is blue now but I am getting red and expect also to have disk wheels put on," replied her companion as our interest collapsed.

If you must get mad at somebody make it yourself.

We soon expect to see purses made out of pigs ear and whistles out of their tails, as we have seen calves clad in silk day after day in Maryville.

Some people wonder how on earth officials got their pay before there were tourists to arrest for breaking the auto laws?

We know a certain Maryville man who in his sparking days always hid the box of candy under his overcoat. Now he proudly carries the monkey on the stick and the rubber ball for Junior out where everyone can see them.

Louise, the stenographer, says if you mind your business you will keep other minds off your business.

We deny the charge that we are not literary people. You can find a couple of magaziaes in every barber shop.

Some people evidently belive it is no use to hurry considering the centuries and centuries of tomorrows which have never been touched.

JUDGE W. K. JAMES WILL ATTEND FARM PARLEY

Washington, Jan. 9—Judge W. K. James of St. Joseph, Democratic candidate for Representative from this district in the last election, will be one of the members of the national farm conference that will convene here the last of the month to search for means of alleviating the agricultural depression.

Only an incomplete list of the acceptances was given out Saturday. Others from the Kansas City territory who have been invited to attend include: H. T. Water of Kansas City; Barton Needham, Lane, Kan., master of the state grange, and S. P. Houston of Malta Bend, Mo. Senator Capper of Kansas, as a member of the congressional agricultural commission, also will sit in the conference.

It is expected that two hundred persons will take part in the conference. The membership will be composed of a majority of farmers and farm organization leaders, although there will be a representation of the chief industries and lines of business immediately dependent on agriculture, as well as a considerable group representing banking, transportation and related lines.

Cotton, grain, tobacco, livestock, fruit, potato and general farmers, as well as dairymen, will be represented in the conference. Among those attending also will be state officials, representatives of agriculture colleges economists and editors of leading agricultural publications. Public officials and former officials also have been invited to attend. In other words, the conference will be broadly representative of agriculture and allied industries.

More economical and efficient methods of marketing, better credit facilities and transportation were mentioned today by Secretary Wallace as some of the subjects that were regarded as of prime importance for the conference to take up. The conference will be divided into committees with representatives of all groups and lines of business on each committee to make a searching inquiry into the possiblities of affording relief along that phase. The suggestion already has been made that the conference should be made an annual affair, so that the agricultural needs of the nation might thus have a yearly research. But this is merely a suggestion the conference itself will deal with. Secretary Wallace himself says the government will present no specific program, but will expect the conference to work one out for itself.

1921 SPRING CHICKENS NO LONGER FRYERS

The increase in the domestic production of butter continues, as noted in our previous reviews, and this increase, plus imports, has resulted in some accumulation of butter on the markets and lower values both in producing and consuming centers. There is still a large supply of storage butter to be marketed.

Poultry receipts have been a little lighter during the week; this is probably due to the fact that some stock has been held back for egg production.

Roosters hatched in the spring of 1921 are beginning to show up quite staggy, and are discriminated against on all markets. Lower prices are being paid, and before long it is expected young roosters of last year's hatch will be classed and sold as "old roosters." Prices are closing a little higher on live and dressed fowl on practically all markets.

Egg receipts have shown considerable increase throughout the producing sections, resulting in markets closing on a lower basis, although it may be expected the price of fresh eggs will fluctuate as value are affected by changes in weather conditions.

MISS PAULINE ABELS BEST SPELLER AT CONCEPTION

Wins First Prize in Contest in Parish Hall Last Night—Julia O'Connor Gets Second

About 150 people attended the spelling bee and entertainment at the Parish Hall of Conception Abbey last night. The program consisted of motion pictures of current international news, a song by the young folks and recitations.

The main part of the program was the spelling contest. The spellers were divided into three groups: children, unmarried young people and married people. The children spelled for one hour, the unmarried people for thirty-five minutes and the married people for fifteen minutes. The winner of the unmarried people's contest was Miss Pauline Abels, who won the first prize of $5 after defeating the winners of the other two groups. Julia O'Connor was the winner in the children's group and got the second prize of $3. Seaman Schrader was the winner in the married peoples group and received the third prize of $2. Some kind of program is given at the Parrish Hall every Sunday evening.

It is reported that Cary Wray missed the first word, and many of his friends are attributing it to his recent entry among the poets.

15 MEN "WALKED OUT" ON HARRISON

SETTERS WANTED A RAISE IN PAY

TOLD TO 'GIVE UP HOOKS'

Some Threatened To Throw Bricks But No Violence Was Done—Were Getting $2.50 a Day

Fifteen men "walked out" at the Harry Harrison ice house northeast of the Burlington depot shortly after beginning work this morning. They left work because they wanted "more money," they said.

For several days Mr. Harrison has been working in the neighborhood of forty men at his lake getting up the ice. This morning they all went to work as usual and things went well for a time. Then someone called Mr. Harrison into the ice house and told him that the setters—men who work at placing the ice in the building—must have more money, else they would not work.

"All right," said Mr. Harrison, "if you do not want to work for what I am paying you, give me your ice hooks and get out, I'll pay you your money." About fifteen of the men filed past and handed Mr. Harrison their hooks. A few of the men who were at work in the building did not come out but instead remained on the job.

The men who left work hung about for a while and it was said that they threatened to throw bricks at some of those who were working but at last went away without attempting violence. Mr. Harrison said that he believed that the men thought that since the weather was so pretty today that he would be afraid that the ice would melt and would therefore pay them a better wage rather than to allow them to quit. Mr. Harrison says, however, that they were fooled. He does not intend to raise the wages. He is paying the setters $2.50 a day and the men who are working on the lake $2 a day. He says that so far the warm weather has not affected the ice and that he can continue his harvest if it does not grow worse than it now is.

For a time this morning the work was checked by the men's stopping work, but in a short time Mr. Harrison had some of the men on the lake shifted to the inside work and things went on their usual course.

Mr. Harrison said that the men knew when they went to work what they were to get and that if they did not want to work for this money, it was all right for them to quit.

THINKS FRATERNAL ORDERS SHOULD ATTEND CHURCH

The Rev. B. F. Cline Compliments DeMolay For Setting Good Example For Others

The Rev. B. F. Cline, pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist Episcopal Church (South) is of the opinion that it would be well for all of the fraternal orders to set aside certain Sundays to go to church in a body, as the DeMolays of Maryville are doing. In speaking to the DeMolay service yesterday morning Mr. Cline said:

"I am glad to have the DeMolay boys with us and I think the idea is a good one. I believe that it would be well for other organizations to attend church occasionally as the DeMolay boys are doing."

Mr. Cline then complimented the Masonic orders and other fraternal organizations for the splendid work they do, but did not make a sermon especially to the DeMolay boys.

Mr. Cline in his sermon talked considerably of wisdom in its relation to religion.

"Wisdom," he said, "is the vehicle for spiritual life, when it is rightly used. The trouble is not with wisdom but with the way that folks sometimes use it. The knowledge of astronomy was what enabled the wise men to find the savior lying in the manger."

About twenty-five members of the DeMoley attended the services. They were accompanied by I. E. Tuloch and M. A. Peery.

MANY AT DOCTOR KELLEMS MEMORIAL SERVICES

First Floor of the First Christian Church Filled to Capacity Yesterday Morning—Number of Tributes

A crowd which filled to capacity the lower floor of the First Christian Church attended yesterday morning the memorial services for the Rev. Dr. Kellems. The Rev. R. E. Snodgrass spoke at the services and paid a high tribute to Dr. Kellems.

The Rev. Mr. Snodgrass also read telegrams that had been received from various places throughout the United State regarding Dr. Kellems' work and excellent character. One of the telegrams came from Shreveport, Ia., where Dr. Kellems once held a meeting. It was signed by Claude L. Jones. Another telegram was from Eugene, Ore., where Dr. Kellems was for 22 years a teacher in the Eugene Bible College. This telegram was signed by E. C. Sanderson, president of the college. Another of the telegrams was from Dale Humbert of Spokane, Wash., where Dr. Kellems once held a meeting. There was also a telegram from the pastor of the church at Guthrie Center, Ia., where Dr. Kellems died.

It was brought out at the services that Dr. Kellems became ill two weeks before his death, only a short time after he had arrived at Guthrie Center to hold the meeting. At first it was thought that he had the measles and was treated for that disease A week later it was discovered that he had the black smallpox from which he died.

The family of the pastor of the church at which Dr. Kellems was holding the meeting, along with his wife and child, are still quarantined at the pastor's home at Guthrie Center. It was announced yesterday at the meeting that the body of Dr. Kellems had been shipped to Eugene, Ore., and that a funeral service would be held from the train. Mr. Snodgrass received a letter this morning, however, to the effect that the body had been placed in a vault at Eugene and that the funeral services would not be held until Mrs. Kellems had been released from quarantine so that she could attend the funeral.

One of the features of the meeting was a solo by Mrs. F. P. Robinson, who sang, "When I Get to the End of the Way," one of the songs that Dr. Kellems had sung a number of times while holding his meetings in Maryville.

Mrs. Ream Here

Mrs. Paul Ream of Kansas City arrived in Maryville Friday to visit her sister, Mrs. Jas. F. Colby, and Mr. Colby, and her brother, Joseph Jackson and family.

S. K. Davidson, Mrs. Amy Edson and her daughter, Miss Pearl Edson, of Stanberry were guests yesterday at the home of Mrs. Edson's daughter, Mrs. C. D. Allen, and family.

BAPTIST IN BIG N. W. MO. GATHERING

THREE COUNTIES TO HOLD MEETINGS

MUCH INTEREST EVIDENT

Nodaway, Atchison and Holt Counties to Hold Simultaneous Meetings—To Begin January 11

Beginning January 11 the Baptists of Northwest Missouri will hold a simultaneous enlistment and efficiency campaign in the three counties which comprise the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association of churches. The three counties are Nodaway, Atchison, and Holt.

Enlistment evangelists of the Missouri Baptist Association will conduct the simultaneous services. The Rev. L. H. Mapel of the Springfield District will be in charge of the services in Nodaway County with headquarters at Hopkins. The Rev. George W. Graham of the St. Louis District will conduct the services in Atchison county with headquarters at Tarkio. The Rev. C. A. Westbrook of the Kansas City District will be in charge in Holt County with headquarters at Mound City.

The wonderful opportunity for Missouri Baptists in enlisting the Baptists of Northwest Missouri in a larger and more efficient service, and in training for leadership the officers and workers of the churches, was called to the attention of those members of the executive board of the Missouri Baptist Association, which attended the annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association held in Hopkins September 13 and 14 by the Rev. J. A. Cooper, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Maryville. The Rev. Mr. Cooper also took up the matter of an enlistment campaign with Dr. O. L. Wood, general superintendent of the Missouri Baptist Association.

As soon as it was learned that the Missouri Baptist Association would co-operate in such a campaign, the executive board of the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association, instructed the Rev. R. L. Stratton, pastor of the Mound City and Forrest City Baptist churches and secretary of the board, to find out when the evangelists could hold the meetings.

At the meeting of the executive board of the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association held in the Tarkio Baptist Church a few weeks ago, plans were made and strategic points selected for the holding in each county of simultaneous meetings, upon being informed by the Rev. R. L. Stratton that enlistment evangelists, Maple, Graham, and Westbrook could be secured for the campaign.

Clyde Melvin of Nodaway County, the Rev. C. F. Kerr of Atchison County, and the Rev. R. L. Stratton of Holt County were appointed to present the matter of headquarters for the county campaign to their respective churches in Hopkins, Tarkio, and Mound City and make such local arrangements as they deemed necessary for the carrying on of the plan.

Immediately following the series of enlistment meetings Evangelists Maple, Graham, and Westbrook will conduct efficiency conferences in the Baptist Churches of North West Missouri, at which time the officers and workers of each church will meet with the Evangelists to plan the work for their church, to get a larger and clearer vision of their opportunities and obligations, and to get instruction for the carrynig on of the larger plans in co-operation with the Baptist State Aassociation.

Because of the fine record of splendid work that the State Evangelists have made in their own districts, through the inspiration and instruction they have been able to give the members of their churches, in the planning and in the execution of the work, by more intelligent and consecrated effort, it is expected that all of the Baptist Churches of Northwest Missouri will be greatly benefitted. Many pastors and their workers are looking forward to the enlistment and efficiency campaign with much of interest and enthusiasm.

Since this is the first time in the history of Northwest Missouri Baptists, that the interest of the Baptist State Association has been so completely aroused to the great opportunities of Northwest Missouri, and for the first time all of the Baptist State Evangelistic force is to be concentrated upon this district, all pastors and officers of Baptist Churches are urged to attend these meetings. And it is expected that the results will be in proportion to the zeal and concentration of those who have the work in charge.

MUNSEN'S HEARING WILL BE THURSDAY, JANUARY 12

Is Charged With Robbing Farmers Mercantile Store at Skidmore—He Was Arrested Saturday

The hearing of Jesse Munsen, 22 years old, who is held at the Nodaway County jail on a charge of robbing the Farmers Mercantile Store at Skidmore will be held Thursday in the justice court of W. L. Johnson.

Munsen was arrested at Skidmore Saturday by sheriff Steve A. Roach and Deputy Sheriff Leo Atherton. Munsen was boarding with a family at Skidmore. In a shed near the house the landlord found a grip belonging to Munsen which contained some articles which were believed to have been stolen. They were identified by the mercantile company by the trade mark as having been taken from the store. Munsen claims that he owns the grip in which the stolen property was found but that he did not know how the goods came to be in it.

C. E. Owens of the mercantile company was in Maryville today. He said that considerable goods had been missed from the store recently. Among other things were two sheep skin lined coats and a vest.

STATE BONUS HELD VALID BY THE SUPREME COURT

Issuance of $15,000,000 in Bands Is Affirmed

Jefferson City, Jan. 9.—The supreme court late Saturday affirmed the validity of the amendment to the constitution providing for the issue of 15 million dollars of state bonds to pay bonuses to the soldiers, sailors and marines, and the legislative act under which the bonds may be sold and the bonuses paid this year.

Every point of attack is answered by the court in favor of the amendment and the bonds. The court holds, however, that the act of the legislature last November providing for a commission to pass upon the claims and the immediate going into effect of the law after its approval by the governor, is not possible, under former rulings of the court.

The act, the court holds, cannot become effective until ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature, which means February 17. Some time ago the governor appointed the two commissioners and now he will have to reappoint them later.

Under the provisions of the bonus legislation, every Missourian who served in the army, navy or marines during a fixed period is to receive $10 for every month of his service, with a maximum of $250.

FARM CLUBS MAKE FOR CO-OPERATION

MRS. C. C. SCHUTTLER SPEAKS AT MEETING

"The chief value of clubs is that they teach people to pull together," said Mrs. C. C. Shuttler of the executive board of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation in a speech before the annual meeting of the Nodaway County Farm Bureau in the Empire Theater, Saturday afternoon. "Farmers' organization is successful only in so far as it secures cooperation," she continued.

"Better prices must be obtained for the farm products before farm living can be put on the plain that it should be and it is farm organization that is to make the higher prices. The fundamental problem of the farmer is economic.

"There are two times when the farmers need to be organized. One time is when the conditions are bad to make them good and the other is when the conditions are good to keep them good.

"The Farm Bureau is a family organization. Then work that is to be accomplished by it cannot be done by the men or the women working singly, but must be done by all working together. As goes the rural home so goes the nation and not otherwise. If the nation is to attain its highest ends the rural home must be the best.

"To make the rural homes the best we must have three changes: economic, social and educational. These changes can best be made through cooperation and the organization of the farm people."

Dr. Jesse Miller then explained the provisions of the new road law. The thing that seems to be causing most confusion to the farmers is the matter of a special tax on the land adjoining the road. No such tax will be imposed, according to Dr. Miller. The county will not be out anything. The state provides $6,000 a mile for the building of the road and where that is not sufficient the state will provide more.

R. E. Davies, director of the Missouri Farm Bureau Marketing Service, explain the work of that organization. He said the service was organized with a view of bringing permanent relief to the farmers in the matter of prices paid for commodities, and without the slightest intention of making a profit for itself.

No charge is made the consumer for the handling of orders, but a small commission is charged the shippers.

INTENSITY OF DAIL SPLIT IS GROWING

FUTURE DECLARED NEVER MORE OBSCURE

NIGHT RIOTS IN BELFAST

De Valera and Cabinet Resign, But Intimates Intention of Continuing Fight

Dublin, Jan. 9—Arthur Griffith, this afternoon, formed a government for southern Ireland, he, taking the presidency, following the Sinn Fein Parliaments defeat of the motion to reelect Eamonn de Valera this morning The vote was sixty to fifty-eight.

Dublin, Jan. 9—Eamonn de Valera today reaffirmed his resignation as president of the Irish Republic, saying that the Sinn Fein cabinet was included in the resignation. Michael Collins announced to the Dail today that the committee would soon meet the British committee to assume his adminfstrative duties. The Sinn Fein Parliament is apparently split wide open.

Belfast, Jan. 9—Four persons were injured in rioting last night.

Dublin, Jan. 9.—De Valera, shaken by emotion, refused the peace overtures of Michael Collins, intimating he would attempt to continue power.

Dublin, Jan. 9.—Prayers of thanksgiving went up from the people in all the churches yesterday. But Ireland continued to face internal disorganization, giving rise to the greatest anxiety.

The split in the dail Eirmann has been heightened and intensified by the vote on the treaty, and the future was never more obscure. The two factions have held several conferences at the Mansion House. The dail will meet again today in public session and all the members are expected to attend.

De Valera and his followers still have the capacity for making trouble, and for the first few months the course of the provisional government undoubtedly will be stormy.

COMBINING THE HOUSEWIVES

The suggestion is often made that the housewives should combine against high prices, and refuse to pay them until they get down to a reasonable level. But that runs up against the fact that the great majority of retail dealers sell on a narrow margin.

The essential trouble is that there are other combinations which the housewife can only influence indirectly in that way. Prices are kept high because many combinations of manufacturers unite to control their profits, and in some lines combinations of labor unite to secure high wages. The housewives can effect it somewhat by refusing to patronize certain articles held at high prices. But when it comes to food, people must pay the price.

This idea of refusing to use high cost products has been used with some success in the building industry, and has helped to reduce prices in because houses are expensive and men as a rule do not have to build them. What is wanted is some kind of a movement that will produce commodities at reasonable prices when they are unreasonably controlled by combinations.

CHEWING GUM AND SCHOOL BOOKS

"What can you expect of a country," said Congressman Purnell of Indiana the other day, "that spends twice as much money on chewing gum as school books."

The fathers of the people who are throwing away their money on nonessentials, got a start in life by denying themselves these little luxuries. They scrimped themselves so as to have money for self improvement. So they developed an intelligent generation that produced a wonderful mechanical civilization. That in turn produces numerous devices to divert people from the solid and substantial things of life.

The American people are sound at heart, and in the end surmount difficulties. But they make themselves much trouble by spending their resources for trifles, while neglecting such a fundamental of prosperity and welfare as education.

Some people are bowlegged and others are boldlegged.

Good credit is a fine thing but good cash is better. Both are good things to keep.

The man who can live, as Mark Twain suggested, "that even the undertaker is sorry when he comes to die" must be a lonely individual, for there won't be many like him.

Work before eating is the prescription that successful men must follow and it is a good rule for the man who asks for a free meal. There are a good many fellows out who wouldn't have half so much appetite if they had to work a little before eating.

A year ago Henry Ford was short of ready cash and wanted to borrow a dignified sum. Financiers made demands that he considered unreasonable and wanted to dictate his business policies. He refused to meet the demands and proceeded to raise the money in his own way. This year he has more cash on hand than any man on earth—$121,000,000. Henry may be freakish in some ways but, when it comes to financiering, he can give all of them lessons.

If Brother Ben Hyde succeeds in forcing a reduction of fifteen per cent in the cost of insurance to Missouri property owners, it will be generally agreed that he is the right man in the right place. During recent years the companies have abused public patience almost to the point of insurrection. Every conceivable excuse has been found for increasing rates but removing the cause rarely secured a full removal of the increase. The insurance department, as a rule, has seemed to exist only to approve what the companies demanded and what they did. Commissioner Hyde has made a particularly strong case because he takes the companies own figures from which to show that they have been making unreasonable profits on the premiums charged.

St. Louis, Jan. 9.—Breckinridge Long, formerly third assistant secretary of state, announced Saturday that he would be a candidate for nomination next August to the United States senate in opposition to Senator James A. Reed, who is expected by his friends to be a candidate for re-election.

Long, who was defeated in 1920 by Senator Selden P. Spencer, has the support of the anti-Reed faction of the Missouri Democrats.

The fact of Long's decision to make the race became known through the publication of a letter from him to Charles P. Senter, chairman of a committee of Missouri Democrats, which had urged him to make the race.

Senator Reed has not yet announced whether he will be a candidate to succeed himself.

Forumettes

The secret is out. Girls bob their hair because it is cheaper than buying nets.

A Maryville man wants to know if anyone ever saw the "horns of the dilema."

One of the greatest indoor and outdoor sports the year around is passing the buck.

A tramp stopped a Maryville man on the street the other morning and asked for money to get some breakfast, saying he had gone hungry for three days. "Shake old man," said the attorney, "is your wife a bum cook also."

Every now and then you hear of some woman marrying a man to reform him. Did you ever hear of a man marrying a woman for the same reason?

The only safe way to try out the bootleg alcohol you buy is in your automobile radiator.

A St. Joseph woman is going to write to Will Hays about the postal service. She says her husband left home on a business trip saying he was going to Cincinatti and she got a post card from him postmarked Pittsburg.

We went to the theater the other night and got the shock of our life. Two sweet young things sat behind us and one asked the other, "what is the color of your body." "It is blue now but I am getting red and expect also to have disk wheels put on," replied her companion as our interest collapsed.

If you must get mad at somebody make it yourself.

We soon expect to see purses made out of pigs ear and whistles out of their tails, as we have seen calves clad in silk day after day in Maryville.

Some people wonder how on earth officials got their pay before there were tourists to arrest for breaking the auto laws?

We know a certain Maryville man who in his sparking days always hid the box of candy under his overcoat. Now he proudly carries the monkey on the stick and the rubber ball for Junior out where everyone can see them.

Louise, the stenographer, says if you mind your business you will keep other minds off your business.

We deny the charge that we are not literary people. You can find a couple of magaziaes in every barber shop.

Some people evidently belive it is no use to hurry considering the centuries and centuries of tomorrows which have never been touched.

JUDGE W. K. JAMES WILL ATTEND FARM PARLEY

Washington, Jan. 9—Judge W. K. James of St. Joseph, Democratic candidate for Representative from this district in the last election, will be one of the members of the national farm conference that will convene here the last of the month to search for means of alleviating the agricultural depression.

Only an incomplete list of the acceptances was given out Saturday. Others from the Kansas City territory who have been invited to attend include: H. T. Water of Kansas City; Barton Needham, Lane, Kan., master of the state grange, and S. P. Houston of Malta Bend, Mo. Senator Capper of Kansas, as a member of the congressional agricultural commission, also will sit in the conference.

It is expected that two hundred persons will take part in the conference. The membership will be composed of a majority of farmers and farm organization leaders, although there will be a representation of the chief industries and lines of business immediately dependent on agriculture, as well as a considerable group representing banking, transportation and related lines.

Cotton, grain, tobacco, livestock, fruit, potato and general farmers, as well as dairymen, will be represented in the conference. Among those attending also will be state officials, representatives of agriculture colleges economists and editors of leading agricultural publications. Public officials and former officials also have been invited to attend. In other words, the conference will be broadly representative of agriculture and allied industries.

More economical and efficient methods of marketing, better credit facilities and transportation were mentioned today by Secretary Wallace as some of the subjects that were regarded as of prime importance for the conference to take up. The conference will be divided into committees with representatives of all groups and lines of business on each committee to make a searching inquiry into the possibilities of affording relief along that phase. The suggestion already has been made that the conference should be made an annual affair, so that the agricultural needs of the nation might thus have a yearly research. But this is merely a suggestion the conference itself will deal with. Secretary Wallace himself says the government will present no specific program, but will expect the conference to work one out for itself.

1921 SPRING CHICKENS NO LONGER FRYERS

The increase in the domestic production of butter continues, as noted in our previous reviews, and this increase, plus imports, has resulted in some accumulation of butter on the markets and lower values both in producing and consuming centers. There is still a large supply of storage butter to be marketed.

Poultry receipts have been a little lighter during the week; this is probably due to the fact that some stock has been held back for egg production.

Roosters hatched in the spring of 1921 are beginning to show up quite staggy, and are discriminated against on all markets. Lower prices are being paid, and before long it is expected young roosters of last year's hatch will be classed and sold as "old roosters." Prices are closing a little higher on live and dressed fowl on practically all markets.

Egg receipts have shown considerable increase throughout the producing sections, resulting in markets closing on a lower basis, although it may be expected the price of fresh eggs will fluctuate as value are affected by changes in weather conditions.

MISS PAULINE ABELS BEST SPELLER AT CONCEPTION

Wins First Prize in Contest in Parish Hall Last Night—Julia O'Connor Gets Second

About 150 people attended the spelling bee and entertainment at the Parish Hall of Conception Abbey last night. The program consisted of motion pictures of current international news, a song by the young folks and recitations.

The main part of the program was the spelling contest. The spellers were divided into three groups: children, unmarried young people and married people. The children spelled for one hour, the unmarried people for thirty-five minutes and the married people for fifteen minutes. The winner of the unmarried people's contest was Miss Pauline Abels, who won the first prize of $5 after defeating the winners of the other two groups. Julia O'Connor was the winner in the children's group and got the second prize of $3. Seaman Schrader was the winner in the married peoples group and received the third prize of $2. Some kind of program is given at the Parrish Hall every Sunday evening.

It is reported that Cary Wray missed the first word, and many of his friends are attributing it to his recent entry among the poets.
